GREETING

The preparation of this Year Book was undertaken in the hope that it would prove of interest to the membership and of value in the life and work of our church.

There will be found included here, a list of officers, a schedule of services, a group of societies, and a directory of names.

To the officers of our church we owe much both for their attention to temporal matters and for their devotion to spiritual things. We have felt the value of the counsel of our session and we know that the best interests of this church are upon their hearts and voiced in their prayers. Our trustees have given evidence of their willingness to undertake aggressive improvements, in the lead that they have taken in the work which has quite transformed our Sunday-school room and its adjoining apartments. The beauty and the comfort of these rooms have been enhanced immensely. While we value the efforts of our church officers, we are sure that they in turn appreciate the co-operation and the support of the membership, which is so essential in every good work. "We have many members in one body, and all the members have not the same office: so we, who are many, are one body in Christ, and severally members one of another."

May it be that the schedule of services shall prove to all a constant reminder of the obligation which they owe toward the public worship of God in His house. If we are to have a church-going community, the example must be set by those of us who are in the circle of the church, "not forsaking our own assembling together."

The societies represent different groups aiming at special lines of work in the Kingdom. The variety is great enough that every one should be able to find at least one society with which to affiliate. It may seem that at the present men are not well provided for, but there is now in existence a Men's Bible Class, and we hope in the near future to realize some form of organization distinctly for men, and then this possible exception will have been removed. "The people had a mind to work."

It is hoped that the directory of names may lead to a more sympathetic and social interest among the membership of the church. If you find the name of any one whom you do not know, will you not regard the fact that your name and their's appear on this list to be a sufficient introduction? Let the fires of mutual love and sympathy burn brightly among the membership and the warmth will not be confined there, but will be felt by the stranger within our gates. The Master: "I was a stranger and ye took me in." The Disciple: "When?" The Master: "Inasmuch as ye did it unto one of these my brethren, even the least, ye did it unto Me."

Into your hands we place this book. Keep it. Use it. And may God bless you all.

Faithfully yours,

PARKE RICHARDS.
